«One of these days I will finally stop wandering aimlessly. With so many battles behind me, a duke is sure to grant me my rightful reward soon. I will be turned from a landless knight into a liege, and my domain will be as awe-inspiring as my martial prowess! By the grace of the Beathacrann who has already honoured me with his blessing, the day will come when I rule on my own lands! This I swear on my faith in the Tree of Life!»
